FREDERICK WILLIAM AND DUCHESS CECILIA MARRIED

Distinguished Assemblage Witnessed Service Which Lasted More Than Four Hours---Bride Wore Elaborate Gown and Crown of Diamonds and Rubies.

BERLIN June 6 Crown Prince Frederick William of Prussia and Duchess Cecilia of Mecklenburg-Schwerin were married here today. [illegible] the [illegible] while [illegible] bells [illegible] battleships here [illegible] every gate [illegible] every [illegible] here German warship floated big [illegible] salute [illegible] the [illegible] moment.

In the chapel one of the most distinguished assemblages that could be gathered in Europe saw the simple yet impressive wedding service of the Lutheran church. Some of the sixty to seventy members of the royal family present from German and foreign states were Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria, Grand Duke Michael of Russia, Prince Henry consort of the queen of the Netherlands, the Duke and Duchess of Aosta representing the king and queen of Italy, Prince Arthur of Connaught representing Great Britain, Prince and Princess Albert of Belgium, the Duke of Oporto representing Portugal, Prince Ferdinand of Roumania and the Crown Prince of Denmark and Greece. These all stood in a wide circle round the altar for there were no pews and behind them without regard to rank were the members of the foreign embassies with Ambassador and Mrs. Tower among them, the cabinet ministers, a number of admirals, the commanders of army corps and many persons of high nobility.

The Wedding Gown

The crown princess for she was also crown princess of Germany, came in [illegible] wearing a wreath of orange blossoms [illegible] which was [illegible] frame [illegible] of diamonds [illegible] of diamonds [illegible] was a marvelous [illegible] of [illegible].

The wedding dress was of [illegible] with a train [illegible] yards in length and two and a quarter yards wide attached to the shoulders. Four maids of honor carried the train and behind them walked two pages. The bridal veil was of [illegible] Brussels lace.

The crown prince wore the light blue uniform of the First Foot Guards with a [illegible] and his decorations. He carried his helmet in his hand.

Behind the bridal groom came the emperor of the army, the grand duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin [illegible] the bride and the emperor with the [illegible] followed by the empress and her daughter, Princess Victoria Luise, followed by the princes of the royal family and the princes of the royal houses of Germany.

The Service

When the service was finished Dr. Dryander shook hands with the crown prince and kissed the hand of the crown princess. He then presented the bridal couple with a bible ornamentally bound. The emperor kissed the bride on both cheeks and then kissed his son, the empress doing likewise.

The bridal party slowly moved out, followed by princes and princesses, but all others waited in the chapel which had become very hot, owing to the 700 candles that had been burning for half an hour. A little reception began in the white hall adjoining the chapel.

After supper had been served torchlight dance, a unique practice at weddings in the house of Hohenzollern, for centuries was performed in a modified form by twelve pages bearing [illegible] candles about two and a half feet tall.

The crown prince took the hand of the [illegible] princess and walked slowly behind the pages, keeping step to the music. The emperor then led the [illegible] the crown prince and his mother around the [illegible] next the crown princess took [illegible] the other princes and the crown prince led the other princesses around the [illegible] that precedence might not be disturbed.

The honeymoon probably will be spent at Hubertusstock, a hunting lodge in a large forest near Eberswalde, Prussia. This is a simple sort of house to the woods where the emperor goes for stalking.

EMPEROR ROOSEVELT APPOINTS SUCCESSOR TO M. DELCASSE

PARIS June 7—A presidential decree accepting the resignation of M. Delcasse and appointing Premier Rouvier foreign minister ad interim appeared in the Journal Officiale this morning.

PARIS June 6 The cabinet discussion today while covering the general Moroccan situation did not include a definite decision regarding the response which France proposes making to the sultan's proposition for an international [illegible]. The question will be dealt with subsequently.

M. Delcasse and M. Rouvier had a [illegible] hour before the first cabinet meeting. The premier assumed the direction of the affairs of the foreign office.

The resignation of M. Delcasse has caused much uneasiness in parliament and quarters where a pessimistic view of relations between France and Germany prevails. Some deputies think that a situation in which France is left [illegible] that it will be difficult [illegible] the differences [illegible] adjusted.

SAILORS REPAIR SHIPS AT MANILA

THE PRESIDENT ISSUES ORDER FOR RUSSIAN CRUISERS TO LEAVE OR INTERNE IMMEDIATELY.

WASHINGTON June 6 The following announcement was made at the war department today:

The secretary of war is in receipt of a cablegram from Governor Wright announcing that the secretary's instructions of yesterday had been fully transmitted to the Russian admiral and at the same time inquiry was made whether he would be required to put to sea within 24 hours after taking on coal and provisions sufficient to take them to the nearest port that up to this time only enough coal and sufficient food supplies for use in the harbor to last from day to day had been given as they arrived in Manila with practically no coal or provisions.

Governor Wright submitted the question as to whether they were entitled to take on coal and provisions to carry them to the nearest port. Governor Wright was advised that the president directed that the 24 hour limit must be strictly enforced, that necessary supplies and coal must be taken on within that time. These instructions being consistent with those of June 1 stating that as the Russian admiral's ships were suffering from damage of battle the American policy was to restrict all operations of belligerents at neutral ports. In other words that time should not be given for repairs of damages suffered in battle.

MOSCOW WANTS IMMEDIATE PEACE

MOSCOW June 6 Seventy two members of the Moscow municipal council have signed the following declaration:

Our hearts are aching. Neither reason, equity nor sense of responsibility to the national conscience can admit that this most disastrous and bloody war of history, the causes of which are incomprehensible to this tortured country, should continue without the consent of the Russian people. Moscow should courageously raise her voice in this year of pain and say that any further postponement of a convocation of the representatives of the nation is impossible.

"The hour has arrived for the people to decide between war and peace, honorable to Russia and for Russia to proceed to the re-construction of the national edifice."

SPEAKER OF HOUSE OF COMMONS RESIGNS

LONDON June 6—At this afternoon's session of the house of commons William Court Gully officially announced his resignation on the ground of ill health of the speakership which he had held for a decade. Premier Balfour and Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman made brief speeches of regret after which the premier announced that tomorrow he would introduce a resolution praying the king to elevate Mr. Gully to the peerage as is customary in the case of retiring speakers of the house of commons.

NOTHING IN REPORT OF ATTEMPT TO KILL CZAR

ST. PETERSBURG June 6 The stories of the attempt to assassinate the emperor were telegraphed back from abroad and spread throughout the city. The Associated Press is assured by General Mashoff, his majesty's chancellor, that absolutely nothing occurred at Tsarskoe-Selo to give rise to such reports.

Teamsters Joint Council Appoints Committee With Full Power to Act.

CONFERENCE TODAY

WITH EMPLOYERS MAY RESULT IN AMICABLE ADJUSTMENT OF TROUBLE STRIKERS WEAKENING.

CHICAGO June 6 The teamsters joint council tonight appointed a committee with full powers to settle the strike and tomorrow a conference will be arranged with the employers.

[illegible] followed the [illegible] conference by Attorney Mayer who spoke for the employers association. He said [illegible] that no more offer [illegible] would be made with the [illegible] when they came to the meeting [illegible] settle the strike. The employers refused to sign the committee's agreement but instead of [illegible] notice [illegible] with a number of the strikers' houses. The employers [illegible] is the employers [illegible] that no separate settlement would be made and that the strike was declared off. It must be declared off in every detail. Earlier in the effort to effect a settlement with the employers today, the teamsters joint council tonight named the committee which had agreed to appoint 24 hours earlier. It is composed of one representative of each union involved in the strike and is headed by W. J. Gibbons president of the Teamsters joint council.

At a mass meeting of the Truck Drivers called to consider the question of arbitrating the demands of the Team Owners association for deliveries to the boycotted houses, it was decided to decline the arbitration notwithstanding that the agreement between the teamsters and Team Owners association contains a provision calling for arbitration in exactly such cases as the one under consideration. The action of the truck drivers however lessens much of the importance compared to the appointment of a committee empowered by the men to settle the strike. No action will be taken by the team owners pending the meeting of the committee appointed tonight to confer with the employers. President Shea of the teamsters was present at the meeting of the joint council tonight when the committee was appointed.

NICE CROWD SEES GRIZZLIES WIN EXHIBITION GAME FROM OMAHA

DES MOINES PLAYERS WERE WINDED RUNNING BASES AND LOCALS LEFT HANDS AT HOME.

A howling, surging mob of 50 or 60 people witnessed the ancient game of one-old-cat on the Cheyenne creek grounds, commonly known as Boulevard park, yesterday afternoon between the Colorado Springs Whites and the Des Moines Blues. It was one of the prettiest corner-lot games ever seen in Ivywild. Try as hard as they could, the visiting players could only score 14 runs in the first four innings, the result of strictly that same number of hits and of errors too numerous to count. Cantillon gave his boys instructions at that age of the game to let up and they followed instructions to a "T" but got too more runs because they couldn't help it. The Whites could not throw fast enough to crate them out and the umpire ruled that second bounces didn't count. Minor's mother called him home to get the kindling at the end of the fourth inning and Stimmel was put in to pitch to keep him from crying. That was the only change made during the game except that the Whites got an unexpected run.

THE MARIE FOUNTAIN CO.

"The Golden Giant Mine," a beautiful comedy drama of western life, was given by the Eastern Marie Fountain company at the Opera house yesterday afternoon and last night to two large houses. The play is no doubt one of the strongest and best produced on the stage today, and the members of this clever company again demonstrated the true artists they are, when the fine style in which the play was presented is considered. The stage settings were appropriate and correct in every particular and lent an additional attractiveness to the performance. George W. Donahue was seen in the part of Tom Flynn, an Irish character, typical of a western mining camp and gave his usual clever performance. Mr. Donahue's little curtain speeches are also always looked for and welcomed, being original, bright and entertaining. Excellent work was done by Frank K. Wallace as Alexander Fairfax, Frank G. Long as Jack Mason, Monroe Hopkins as Jim Bixby and F. W. Dunning as Duncan LeMoyne. Mr. Franklin, a new member of the cast, appeared to good advantage in the part of Max Wayne, while Erma Wallace as Mrs. Boggs, Nellie Long as Ethel Wayne and Florence Peyton as Bessie Fairfax were fine in their respective parts.

Excellent specialties were given by Prof. Dan LeMont's troupe of performing dogs, cats and monkeys.

Miss Minnie Fogarty in a program of sentimental ballads and Monroe Hopkins in a singing and dancing tramp act.

Tonight the bill will be changed, the company presenting the sensational border drama, "The Young Scout."

OTTO FLOTO SHOWS COMING ON JUNE 24

A. H. Hagen, formerly of this city, is now contracting press agent for the Floto shows. Mr. Hagen visited Colorado Springs yesterday to make arrangements for the appearance of his good shows here June 24. There will be a matinee and night performance at the show grounds on West Huerfano street. During the winter many new and unique features have been added to the Floto shows and they are better than ever before. This is the only spring circus on the road, but it is no longer an experiment for it has been making money hand over fist for two seasons. Circuses were invented for children and the Floto shows play especially for them, not forgetting the grown up children.

PLAN TO FORM SOCIETY OF FORMER IOWA RESIDENTS MEETS WITH STRONG ENCOURAGEMENT.

Scores of replies are being received by A. B. Waterman in response to his request that he be notified of Colorado Springs people eligible to membership in an Iowa society which he and others are planning to organize. There is now no doubt that the society will be formed at an early date and that it will be a large success. There are almost as many native Iowans as native Coloradans in this city. No expense attaching to membership and the wives and husbands of active members are entitled to honorary membership. Once a year the society will hold a big picnic and the first of these annual reunions will be held late this summer or early in the autumn. All Iowa will be given notice so that people of that state who are touring the west can arrange to be present. Membership blanks are at the Chamber of Commerce.

DROVE HORSES INTO BARBED WIRE FENCE

While driving to a ranch house near Fountain to attend a patient last Sunday, Dr. H. L. Richardson drove into a barbed wire fence two miles south of Widefield and had a horse badly cut, besides receiving severe personal injuries. The road had been used as a cut-off across a ranch but within the last few days the rancher had fenced in the land and failed to put up a sign. As it was dark the doctor did not see the wire fence until after the damage was done. The horse on the near side was so badly cut that it required several stitches to sew up the wounds.

CLIFTON LEIRD WON DEMOREST CONTEST

Clifton Leird, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Leird, of 722 North Weber street, won the fourth Demorest medal contest held at the United Presbyterian church last evening under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. His subject was "Farmer Dean's Conversion." The boy is becoming quite an orator, having won second place in the third Demorest contest held two months ago at the Second Presbyterian church.

Merdecee Hoover, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hoover, 914 East Cimarron street, won honorable mention in last evening's contest, taking as her subject "A Sign Board." A feature of the program was the reciting of Mrs. M. Q. West at the close of the contest.

KIDNEY DISEASES CAUSE ONE-THIRD OF THE TOTAL DEATHS.

When the Kidneys fail to perform their functions properly by not straining out the poisonous waste matter from the blood as it passes through them, the poisons are carried by the circulation to every part of the body, deranging the different organs. This causes heart trouble, stomach trouble, sluggish liver and a host of other ills, all due to deranged Kidneys.

A MAN CAN'T ... as much in spackling. It isn't a question of his winning a race, but a question of being able only to keep afloat. The man who is suffering from indigestion is like the fettered swimmer. His stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased. It is not a question with him of winning in the race for business but of simply keeping up under any circumstances.

Whenever disease affects the stomach it is affecting also the blood and the health of every organ of the body. For blood is only food converted into nutrition and nutrition is the life of the body and every organ of it.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It purifies the blood and enables the perfect nutrition of the body which means perfect health.

BAD CHECK ARTIST JAILED IN CRIPPLE CREEK FOR ABUSING CONFIDENCE OF SPRINGS PEOPLE

By never losing sight of the man Sheriff Gumpecht succeeded in capturing the bad check artist who several weeks ago worked this city while representing himself to be a trained nurse and an assistant surgeon. He was arrested yesterday at Cripple Creek parading as a barber under the name of Frank Cunningham. When presenting Colorado Springs people with a bad paper he gave his name as Tankersly and stated that he was from Denver.

Charles Zobrist, druggist, cashed a check of $[illegible] for the young man and the Kentucky Liquors company was caught for $[illegible]. Several others were held in for small amounts. Following the [illegible] the Phi Beta Kappa address was delivered in Perkins auditorium. The Rev. Samuel A. Eliot, D. D., of Boston, made the address, taking as his subject "The Test of an Education." It was a strong address [illegible]

"The fundamental principle of education is the turning of sight into insight. Education is not, as many people think, the accumulation of facts but is the giving of life to these facts. Insight seizes on the right point and has the right perspective. Knowledge banishes prejudice but it does not banish sentiment. Acuteness of observation and capacity to deal with moral and intellectual problems are tests of education.

Nourish Idealism

[illegible] should not [illegible] the expression that lifts us out of despondency and gives us inspiration. That is sometimes a great truth. It does overflow the barriers of logic. But [illegible] the feelings of devotion [illegible] and they forget the spirit of the spirit within us. [illegible] insight. Science has [illegible] but it has no vision beyond the veil of sense."

DISAGREEABLE, BUT NOT SERIOUS.

It is highly probable that at its next meeting the Council should finally settle its disagreeable squabble with the Street Commissioner over the appointment of a foreman. Mr. Gray has withdrawn the name of M. H. Richmond and appointed J. N. Fitzgerald to the position, and there is not the slightest reason why this appointment should not be confirmed. If the aldermen are sincerely anxious to end the dispute they have the opportunity to do so by voting for Fitzgerald.

The five aldermen who voted down the resolution demanding Commissioner Gray's resignation are to be congratulated. That characteristic piece of impertinence did not contain even enough truth to make it plausible. Mr. Gray is not "guilty of insubordination in office," and he is not "derelict in his duty to the citizens." He has not "hampered the work of the Street Department." He has not "attempted to continue in office an incompetent foreman." Until this resolution was introduced Richmond's competency had never been questioned. He is competent to build roads, which is all that anybody has asked him to do. But we venture the suggestion that if he should ever be elected to the Council and made president of that body, he, or almost anybody else, would display a degree of ability which, in comparison with that of the present incumbent, would amount to transcendent genius.

Mr. Holden, who, contrary to the impression one might gain from his actions, is an adult—is the individual responsible for all this kindergarten practice in the Council. He has had his little fling about long enough, and it is time for his associates to sit down on him, gently, yet firmly. There is no other way to deal with a man who shows himself utterly incapable of realizing his own ridiculousness. Mr. Holden is like a gnat which gets in one's eye—extremely disagreeable, but not serious.

DR. HANFORD APPOINTED.

THE appointment of Dr. P. G. Hanford to be Health Commissioner is highly commendable from every viewpoint. He has already served two terms in this office and has shown himself to be one of the most capable officials the city ever had. He is more thoroughly familiar with the duties of the place than any other available person, and the position is one in which experience counts for much.

Dr. Hanford has made the Health Department one of the most important branches of the city government. Conditions here are peculiar in that Colorado Springs is primarily a health resort, and unusual precautions must be taken to guard the purity of the water supply, prevent the existence of nuisances, prohibit the sale of impure milk and other foods, and protect the city from contagious diseases. In a place where pure food and water are of unusual importance to the people the office of Health Commissioner is one to be filled with great care.

Under Dr. Hanford's administration it has grown from a small and poorly organized bureau until it now includes the supervision of the city chemist and market master's work, and the city dump and removal of garbage. A large staff of inspectors are employed who regularly examine the dairies and acquaint themselves with the condition of the perishable foodstuffs sold. Chemical analyses are made of milk, the city water and of suspected food products. It would be difficult to secure better protection of the public health than is afforded by the splendidly organized system of the Health Commissioner.

This appointment is a practical application of the merit system to which, we believe, Mayor Hall is committed. The public will welcome it with pleasure for it comes as a refreshing contrast to the official decapitation of Police Chief Reynolds and Fire Chief Batty at the behest of the Democratic spoilsmen. Both of those officials had fairly earned reappointment, just as Dr. Hanford has earned his, and it is difficult to see why the rule should not apply to all alike. But the politicians move in mysterious ways sometimes, and the public can't get a whole loaf it will have to be satisfied with a third of one.

A NOTABLE ANNIVERSARY.

YESTERDAY was the first anniversary of the blowing out of the Independence depot in the Cripple Creek district. The terrible catastrophe which occurred [illegible] many others. It was to those [illegible] a day at Victor in which two [illegible] was [illegible] which had been running [illegible] defiance of the Federation or under its [illegible] and immediately closed down. [illegible] and property were [illegible] under military control. [illegible] special notable [illegible] in which the Federation and its anarchistic methods [illegible] were found to reign and men were appointed [illegible] who were known to be staunch [illegible]

[illegible] prosperous [illegible] money in the West [illegible]

[illegible] a year prior to the Independence explosion. Every mine is operating on full time and the incentive not merely the old producers, but several new properties have been opened up through the enterprise of men who were induced to invest money because of the settled conditions. The productivity of the mining district extends to all other lines. Business generally is good because all of the working class are comfortably employed at good wages, and have plenty of money to spend. The output of the camp is constantly increasing, and the district has been swelled by the addition of several new mines.

It would be hard to imagine a greater change than has come over the Cripple Creek district in the short space of twelve months following the awful tragedy at the Independence depot. Despair, stagnation and adversity have given way to confidence, activity and prosperity. The fact is enough complete to vindicate the necessary taken by the authorities to restore order.

It is not likely that any district will ever again passing through an experience like unto the people are determined that the murderous Western Federation shall never again secure a foothold there. The thousands of men who formerly belonged to it, not from choice but compulsion, are far better satisfied now that they are relieved of its tyranny. Up to the present time within a score of weeks cards have been issued by the Mine Owners' Association and nearly 1000 of the men who received these are now at work in the district. It is safe to say that they will never willingly relinquish the protection and the certainty of steady work at good wages that is afforded them in favor of the criminal and despotic rule of the Federation.

Efforts are sure to be made to again bring the district under the sway of the Moyer-Haywood organization. In fact paid agitators are kept at work there all the time, but until the Federation has purged itself finally and completely of the taint of crime which now attaches to it the people of the district will not tolerate its presence.

Colorado Comment.

ONE PLANK AT A TIME.

In adopting the public ownership of public utilities, the Patterson democracy will, for the time at least, leave out the other populist plank, establishing pumpkin banks where farm products may be deposited and draw interest. That will naturally follow if they meet with success with the first plank.—Greeley Republican.

STATE INCOME FROM LIQUOR LICENSES.

Reports from the state treasurer's office show that the state is being enriched at the rate of $[illegible] a day from the saloons and drug stores by reason of the liquor license which is collected by the state. It is claimed that there are 2,000 saloons and drug stores which licenses expired in April. It is not likely, if the official count confirming the unofficial, that Colorado City will contribute very much to this growing fund after October 1, next.—Canon City Clipper.

GAS FOR GRAND JUNCTION.

In another year, at the latest, Grand Junction will have a fully equipped gas plant. This will provide another means of lighting, and also, what is of much more importance, furnishing a means to cook without the necessity of a great stove in the heat of the season. There are other things for which gas can be used to great advantage and the public will greet the new industry with acclaim.—Grand Junction Sentinel.

DOGS AND THEIR USES.

Kiowa has the greatest variety of dogs and the most of them of any town of its size in the state. It has white dogs, black ones, yellow, gray, brown and spotted ones. Mastiffs, curs, bloodhounds, greyhounds, bulldogs, terriers, setters, pointers and nuisances. Just what use people living in town have with dogs we have never been able to comprehend, unless it is to give them trouble and create ill-feelings between neighbors.—Kiowa Record.

FREAK OF PEACH TREES.

A peculiar condition was observed this spring among the peach trees around town. The trees leafed out without a sign of blossom, and every one supposed that the chances for peaches that year were gone. Within the last few weeks however, blossoms have appeared in profusion, in place of the leaves, contrary to all precedent. It looks as though the peach trees were becoming addicted to performing during the Ada and video performing after the manner of the wood. The result will be awaited with considerable curiosity.—Lamar Sentinel.

Year to Nature

BELLIGERENT CHRISTIANITY.

Trouble broke out in the Congregational church last night over a window. One man raised the window, another promptly and forcibly lowered it. The performance was kept up for some time, each one swearing at the other, and stated that he would settle him after church. The other said he came on to settle then right on the spot, and began to scrap in earnest. The fight was not stopped until they were carried down to the night police station and placed under arrest.—Grand Junction (Colo.) News.

HAILS NEW NAVAL ERA

Sea Power of the World Has Great Lesson in Battle of Sea of Japan—Giant Ships Base Friends, Destructiveness of Torpedo Vessels, Shown in Fight, May Revolutionize Policies.

NOW that the smoke of the great naval battle in the Sea of Japan has cleared away and the dust raised by the Japanese has settled, it becomes apparent that the naval development of the nations in point vastly changed as a result of the possibilities brought by the little brown men of Nippon. Some of these lessons may be thus mentioned:

1. The great battleship is not obsolete. It is not to be scrapped. Its sea power is as great as ever, and its effectiveness has been increased by the very highest possible efficiency.

2. This means that the instruments of war, equipment, armor of ships and armament—"the gun behind the gun"—is the first consideration.

3. The great battleship is going down to the scale of relative importance and the torpedo boat is coming up. So much is this true that it is already well nigh assured that the future naval policy of the United States will be the building of few, if any more battleships and the construction of a large number of torpedo boats and destroyers. There is also a possibility that the submarine is coming to the front, that the French have been on the right track in that line, though as to this more light is needed.

Japan Leads the World.

Now that most of the facts have come out, naval men and government officials, from President Roosevelt down, are more than ever amazed at the results attained by the Japanese. The men of Nippon are now the naval leaders of the world. The experts of all countries are sitting at their feet. Incidentally the American navy is at fault and liable to severe criticism because it has not sent men to the far east to study the action on the sea and to profit thereby. Some other nations have been forehanded in this and have gained a distinct advantage over the United States.

Perhaps the most astounding fact involved in the war is this. Since the outbreak of hostilities the Japanese have neither built nor bought warships, yet their fighting line is now stronger than it was at the beginning of the war. In other words, they have taken from their enemy more in tonnage, in guns, in actual value, than they have lost from all causes during the war. And meanwhile they have annihilated the naval power of their enemy. Such an achievement as this eclipses everything known to naval annals.

Japanese Losses.

According to official statements made today in Tokio, the Japanese have lost since the war began one battleship, one cruiser, two gunboats and five torpedo boats or destroyers. All but three of these craft and these small boats belonging to the torpedo flotilla, were lost in the series of blockades at Port Arthur. Not one ship was sunk, destroyed or captured by the Japanese unless the three Russian ships lost Sunday and Monday be before the guns of the foe. Mr. [illegible] accounts for all the casualties with the possible exception of three [illegible]. In other words, the Japanese navy has practically wiped the Russian navy off the face of the waters. The Russian navy, when expected, was reflected [illegible] and less than [illegible]. It is not surprising that naval experts the world over are astonished when they contemplate the achievement of the Japs.

For the one battleship they have lost the Japanese have gained from the Russians two first class modern battleships, one of them as fine a ship of its type as there is afloat. They now have possession of two coast defense ships which the Russians were kind enough to sail into Japanese waters as a contribution to the fighting force of the mikado. They have captured one good cruiser, one valuable special service ship and at least [illegible] probably several more destroyers. The balance of ready war [illegible] is heavily in favor of the Japanese. Their navy is stronger now than it was when the war broke out. The Russians have played nicely into their hands.

Heavy Loss to Russia.

The office of naval intelligence today issued a statement showing in detail the effect of the war upon the fighting strength of the combatants. When hostilities began Russia had [illegible] first-class battleships, with a tonnage of 230,000. Now she has seven such ships, with a tonnage of only 82,000.

Three coast defense vessels, with a tonnage of 65,000, have shrunk to seven, with a tonnage of 43,000.

Armored cruisers numbering seven at the outbreak of the war, with a tonnage of [illegible], have dropped to three, with a tonnage of [illegible].

The fleet of above 6,000 tons numbering [illegible] when the war started, with [illegible] tons, are now only four, with 30,000 tons. Of fourteen smaller cruisers the Russians have lost three, and would have lost more if they had sent them to the Far East. Of fourteen torpedo boat destroyers they have lost at least eight, and of eighty-five torpedo boats they have lost at least three, and probably more. The naval intelligence office includes only craft known to have been lost.

The net total is a loss of thirty-three fighting ships and a reduction of the total tonnage of the Russian navy from 41,000 to 257,000.

Japan's Increased Strength.

How have the Japanese fared meanwhile? According to the same official report, at the outbreak of the war the Japanese had four first-class battleships, with a tonnage of 61,000. Now they have five, with a tonnage of 76,000.

Their two coast defense ships, with a tonnage of 11,000, have been increased to five, with a tonnage of 26,000.

They have the same number of armored cruisers, eight.

[illegible]

They have added three torpedo boat destroyers to add to the nineteen they originally had, and they have lost four torpedo boats.

The grand total [illegible] of the war [illegible] tonnage of 1,000 [illegible] while the Japs have 146 fighting ships [illegible] commencing the war with [illegible] have made during the war, [illegible] tonnage of 20,000. In other words, the war has reduced the Russian fighting strength in the proportion of [illegible] per cent in tonnage, while the Japanese strength has increased in tonnage about 46 per cent through actions from the country.

Work of Torpedo Boats.

Despite the glorious [illegible] of the torpedo boats, the official dispatches show that of the four Russian battleships and two armored cruisers which were disposed of by the hands of the Japanese, [illegible] of them were disposed of by the torpedo boats. The fact is that the Russian officers and men were so [illegible] running madly about the decks of their ships unable to work the guns [illegible] offer resistance to the torpedo flotilla [illegible] the Russian crews [illegible] the torpedo boats [illegible] the fire of the battleships. The fact is that the Russian officers and men were so [illegible] running madly about the decks of their ships unable to work the guns [illegible] offer resistance to the torpedo flotilla. Two things had [illegible] the Russian officers into this state of demoralization, the [illegible] and other terrors of the Japanese gun fire and the operations of the dreaded torpedo boats.

The world is going to Annapolis to learn from naval experts. The men on the bridge and at the gun levers is the first thing the high power, long range gun which expert gunners can shoot at great distances is the second thing and the third is the torpedo boat, small of size, in great numbers, officered and manned by intrepid, dashing men who glory in taking their lives in their hands and who may swarm about an enemy's fleet and smother it and strike terror into the hearts of its crews.

The American Problem.

The wisest naval commentators now admit the people of the United States would be foolish to spend millions more of good money in battleships. We have battleships enough. What we most need is a fleet of two or three hundred torpedo boats and destroyers. Two dozen such craft may be built for the cost of a single ship of the first class, and their upkeep costs less year by year.

The great problem before the American government is the improvement of the personnel of the navy. Higher pay must be given officers and men, especially men. Wages must be paid that will attract first class men. We do not want our fighting ships manned by the scum of seaports ready to desert at the first opportunity or to leave their posts in action and to jump into the sea to escape the danger of going down with their ship, as thousands of Russians have done.

A naval officer of high reputation said today that if Japan had [illegible] to Russia six months ago [illegible] the Japanese [illegible] Russian battleships and two armored cruisers were disposed of by the hands of the torpedo boats. In addition to this [illegible] the Russian officers [illegible] the torpedo flotilla [illegible] the Russian crews [illegible] the fire of the battleships. The fact is that the Russian officers and men were so [illegible] running madly about the decks of their ships unable to work the guns [illegible] offer resistance to the torpedo flotilla. Two things had [illegible] the Russian officers into this state of demoralization, the [illegible] and other terrors of the Japanese gun fire and the operations of the dreaded torpedo boats.

The world is going to Annapolis to learn from naval experts. The men on the bridge and at the gun levers is the first thing,

Further action in the case against Ellsworth was suspended and he was given to understand that he would not be prosecuted if he cared for his wife in the proper manner.

In the probate division of the county court yesterday, the claim of Martha Sill against the estate of E. B. Sprague was tried before Judge Keir and a jury. The claimant originally asked $2,450 for services alleged to have been rendered to the deceased prior to his death, being at the rate of $25 per month. It was then found that the statute of limitations barred one-half the charges made for two and one-half years and the claim was reduced to $1,800. The jury reduced a verdict allowing the claimant $600.

In the matter of the estate of the Stockbridge minors, the substitute bond of Mrs. Annie Snoqualice was approved and the report approved.

WITNESSES RELEASED AT REQUEST OF DISTRICT ATTORNEY. BONDSMEN MUST PAY BY JUNE 15.

Pay up before June 15 or the sheriff will collect is the meaning of an order entered by Judge Robert E. Lewis in the district court yesterday against N. B. Hughes, C. P. Tarbell and E. F. Schroder, bondsmen for W. H. Axtough.

The case is entitled People vs. W. H. Axtough et al, and it came before the court upon a motion made by counsel for the bondsmen to quash the writ of scire facias recently issued by the court. Arguments were heard and the motion denied by the court, who further directed execution to issue against the bondsmen for the full amounts of their bonds on or before June 15.

On motion of the district attorney the court further ordered the sheriff to release defendants Gibson and Crawford upon their own recognizances signed by themselves and their attorney, John Dewenge. This order practically ends all of the sensational cases brought against Axtough, Shoudeen, Gibson and Crawford charging forgery, false pretenses, conspiracy, etc., in connection with the Colorado City coal fraud cases, as Gibson and Crawford were the principal witnesses against Axtough, provided they turned state's evidence.

PINK AND WHITE CLOSE WEDDING

NUPTIALS OF MISS MARY SPILLANE AND MR. F. G. SCHULZ TO BE SOLEMNIZED TODAY AT ST. MARY'S.

This morning, with all the impressive rites attending marriages in the Catholic church, Miss Mary Meriquette Spillane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Spillane, 509 West Bijou street, will be united in marriage to Mr. Frank G. Schulz, of Louisville, Ky.

St. Mary's will be filled with a numerous company of relatives and friends who will delight to do honor to the happy occasion by their presence. It is to be a pink and white wedding and the flowers will be chiefly roses and carnations set off with potted palms, ferns and smilax.

Professor Seymour will preside at the organ and elaborate instrumental and vocal selections will be rendered. The Rev. Father Raber will officiate, assisted by Rev. Father McMenamin of Denver.

The bride will be gowned in an exquisite Paris lawn elaborately garnitured with real lace, and her veil will be held with a beautiful diamond and pearl ornament, the gift of the groom. Instead of flowers an ivory prayer book will be carried.

Miss Elizabeth Charlotte Murray, the maid of honor, will wear a flowered silk mull and cream oriental lace over pink taffeta. The bridesmaids, Miss Lillian Spillane and Miss Marie Hoffman, will wear white bobbinet lace over pink taffeta, trimmed with white lace and ribbons. All will carry bridesmaids' roses and wear white lace picture hats wreathed with pink roses.

Mr. Schulz will be attended by his brother, Mr. George Schulz. The ushers will be Messrs. Stephen Spillane, Edgar King and Lewis Cunniff.

Immediately after the marriage breakfast will be served to about 30 guests at the Alta Vista. Handsome floral decorations in pink, white and green will beautify the dining room.

The bride is one of the most charming and popular young women of the city and her departure, even under such happy conditions is sincerely regretted. The groom is connected with one of the prominent old families of Louisville, Ky., and is a trusted employe of the firm of Frank Menne, candy manufacturers.

Mr. and Mrs. Schulz will go to Denver for a ten days' visit, and then to St. Louis before going to Louisville where, after August 15, they will be at home at 1322 Cherokee road, in a cosy residence awaiting their occupancy.

REAL ESTATE MEN RAISE $600 TO GIVE ROYAL WELCOME TO VISITORS AT STATE CONVENTION.

When the city council refused to appropriate the sum of $50 to aid the Real Estate Exchange in the entertainment of the state realty convention which will be held here June 26-28, inclusive, it was suggested by some of the members that they make a canvass of the business district and see if the merchants would subscribe. However, only a little effort was required to raise the sum of $600 from real estate men, transfer men, hotels and the leading business association, and it was not necessary to ask advance outside of these sources for contributions.

Something like 400 guests are to be entertained and quite a handsome fund will be raised by those who are willing to meet the agreeable obligations. Messrs. Snider and Bowen of the Real Estate News of Denver, the official organ of the Colorado Real Estate Association, are in the city preparing an advance story of the convention.

All railroads of Colorado have authorized a one fare rate to the convention of this association in Colorado Springs. Tickets good for sale beginning June 19 and for return including June 29. The rate is open to the general public from any point in Colorado. As there will be special entertainment for the ladies during the convention it is suggested that members who attend add to the pleasure of the occasion by bringing their wives and daughters.

This convention is to be the most interesting and valuable convention of Colorado men ever held in Colorado. The discussions will be such that every business man of the state will be personally interested in the outcome.

NEW SEWER FOR WEST SIDE THIS SUMMER

The city will add [illegible] feet of line to its sewer system this summer, if the present plans are carried out. The most important extension will be the beginning of the construction of the large Hayes street line on the west side. It is planned to lay 1,320 feet of 15-inch main in that section this year and add to it each year as the money can be spared. The remaining portion of the work will consist of short extensions to the present 8-inch mains.

WILL BE UNITED IN MARRIAGE TONIGHT

This evening at 8 o'clock at the family residence, 316 West Bijou street, Miss Bertha Agnes Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Watson, and Mr. Carroll Atchison Spicer, son of Dr. and Mrs. Oliver W. Spicer, 42 North Weber street, will be united in marriage, the Rev. Benjamin Brewster, rector of Grace Episcopal church and Rev. W. Charles Wallace, pastor of the Second Congregational church, officiating.

The bride will be attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Watson, as maid of honor, and Miss Jane Montgomery and Miss Jessie Westcott, bridesmaids. Mr. Spicer's best man will be Mr. Jay Lonergan.

The guests will number about 50 and after the tendering of congratulations refreshments will be served.

WESTERN BUSINESS CHARACTERIZES MARKET

NEW YORK, June 6.—There was more news to account for the ups and downs in stocks than there are for every ordinary session. The volume of sales indicated to a certain degree that the midsummer dullness had called out one of the efforts of the stock traders to induce room traders to operate for a while. Distribution then before us that the change—an eighth here or there—sales are less frequent than formerly.

Such news as there was today was not favorable to values and there were some signs of advantage. The week's crop report of the weather bureau was considered as decidedly encouraging.

A dominant influence in the market was the decided weakness of Western United Pacific. Many intimations were afloat in stock exchange circles before the market opened that a corrupt upward movement in this stock was intended, based on the financial statement of the company published yesterday. Suspicions were entertained that a process of unloading was going on on the part of a certain interest in the stock. The effect was depressing on pool operators.

REPORTS OF POOR CROPS IN EUROPE HAD BULLISH EFFECT

CHICAGO, June 6.—Reports of damage to the wheat crop of Europe had a bullish effect on the wheat market here today. At the close the July option was up [illegible] cent, is now a gain of [illegible] cents. Provisions are [illegible] cents higher.

The market however [illegible] exceedingly active buying by a prominent commission house. Increased primary receipts gave additional encouragement to the bulls. During the last hour of trading the market was extremely strong. The July option reached the highest point of the day at [illegible]. The market closed almost at the highest point, final quotations on July being at [illegible].

Trading in the corn pit was in high offerings were very small and prices had to be bid up materially before holders would take profits. Small acceptance from the country had a bullish influence. From cables augmented demand for corn in this market. The close was at the highest point of the day. July opened [illegible] higher at 50½, sold between 50 and 51 and closed at the top.

In sympathy with the strength of other grains, a firm tone prevailed in the oats market. Trading was active, a feature being an excellent demand from shorts. July opened unchanged at 31½, sold up to 31¾ and closed at 31¾.

Provision were firm as a result of a further advance in the price of live hogs. Pork and ribs were in good demand. The market closed strong with September pork up 10c at $13.10. Lard was up [illegible] at $7.60@7.62½. Ribs were [illegible] higher at $7.70@7.72½.

ADVENTURES WITH A BULLDOG.

Your old friend, Cousin Bud, found a bulldog the other day and started to take it home. On the road he met the deacon, Aunt Cynthy and a block cat. The whole bunch got together and, to say that there was something doing for a time expresses it but mildly. Just what did happen will be shown in a series of very laughable pictures in next week's funny section.

The Medicine That Cures.

Reno, Okla., May 11, 1905.

Wine of Cardui absolutely does cure sick women. I consider it the most valuable medicine, and it is the cheapest cure any sick woman can use, as it takes as a rule, only a few bottles to effect a complete and lasting cure. I especially recommend it for uterine or ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, painful, profuse or scanty menstruation and it is a most valuable adjunct to use during the gestative period, insuring easy childbirth and speedy recovery.

It should have a place in every home as it is a true friend to wife, mother and maiden and I most heartily recommend it.

Fr. E. Buchanan

Writes and Lectures.

Dr. Mrs. Buchanan is an authority on the science of medicine and certainly appreciates the great work physicians are doing for the relief of sufferers. But this does not deter her from expressing her views in praise of Wine of Cardui.

Mrs. Buchanan's high intelligence and long and successful experience render her advice of great value. Wine of Cardui regulates menstruation, cures bearing-down pains and relieves suffering women of the pain and misery to which they are a prey. You have the word of Dr. Buchanan and thousands of other grateful women that Wine of Cardui will completely cure you.

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.
